The Harrison - Pottawattamie county drainage ditches were established a year ago by the supervisors of the two counties but the old drainage law was declared null and vold, and at the last session of the state legislature had to be amended. This being the situation the work of establishing the drainage district has to be gone all over again.

The new petition for the establishment of the joint drainage district was filed June 8 last by Fred Brown and others. It was filed with the auditors and boards of supervisors of both counties, who appointed Thomas Tostevin of this city as engineer to make the survey as required by law. Engineer Tostevin and the commissioners appointed to represent the two counties filed their report September 24 and now it is up to the supervisors of both countles to either establish the drainage district asked for or else reject the entire propo-

Make Money By Sending Your Subscriptions to us

We have special arrangements whereby we are enabled to offer a discount of from 15 per cent to 50 per cent from the subscription price of nearly every publication. We have prepared several clubbing offers, selecting such publications as will be of particular interest to everyone engaged in the different branches of agriculture and stock raising. We also include, in addition to this class of literature, magazines which will interest every member of the family and will help them to pass many pleasant hours in the long winter evenings and summer holidays.

Some of the publishers have made us special short time offers, which may necessitate our withdrawing this offer at an early date. We would suggest, therefore, that you make up your list and send your order in without delay
